

Good Hygiene and Infection Control Practices

We recognise that the Covid-19 Virus is of concern to the Australian community and as a result Corporate Hands wants to assure you we are actively following government advice and guidelines to keep your workplace safe and ensure the safety and wellbeing of your staff and our practitioners.

Wash hands regularly

Good Hygiene

Mental Health

Regular Cleaning

Corporate Hands Implemented Strategies to Observe Good Hygiene Practices for Your Workplace.

- All practitioners have completed the Health Department's Covid-19 infection control course.
- Our practitioners will only attend your workplace if they are healthy and showing no symptoms of cold, flu or fever.
- All practitioner contact surfaces within the allocated office space will be wiped down with antibacterial solution on entry and exit.
- A 5-minute break every two hours will need to be allocated for additional hygiene time (thorough hand washing with soap & water)
- Hand sanitiser will be used by the practitioner before and after each massage participant.
- Only single use disposable paper tissues or head protectors will be used for each participant.
- Our ergonomic chair will be wiped down with sanitising solution between each participant.
- If hand massages are requested, both parties must use hand sanitiser before and after.
- We ask that the office space provided for onsite massages is clean prior to our visit, each participant is healthy with no signs of cold, flu or fever. Each massage participant has washed their hands prior the massage and uses our hand sanitiser on completion of the massage. The 4-metre square rule will apply if multiple practitioners in the same room, please ensure there is adequate space to accommodate this ruling.
